TESTIMONY BEFORE THE COMMITTEE ON RECONSTRUCTION—BROKEN DOSES.
VOICES FROM ALEXANDRIA.

CHAPTER 13.
Testimony of Dr. J. B. JOHNSON, taken
Feb. 8, 1866.

Question. Where do you reside?
Answer. Alexandria, Virginia.
Q. Are you a practicing physician in Alexandria?
A. Yes.
Q. How long have you resided in Virginia?
A. I am a native of Virginia.
Q. What was your occupation during the war?
A. That of a physician.
Q. Were you practicing at Alexandria?
A. Yes.
Q. What political party were you connected with during the war or since the war?
A. The States-rights party.
Q. Did you take any part in the war?
A. No, sir, none.

Q. Are you well acquainted with the state of public feeling in Virginia toward the government of the United States?
A. I have had opportunities since the cessation of hostilities of observing the temper and character of the people.
Q. Does the secessionist part of the people generally feel kindly toward the government of the United States?
A. They manifest no opposition. They show perfect obedience to the laws, proclamations, and orders of the government; that is, among that class of the people whom we expect, of course, to be law-abiding and good citizens.
Q. Do you not, habitually or occasionally, hear contemptuous expressions towards the government?
A. Yes, sir, I do sometimes.

Q. Have any instances of violence come within your notice growing out of differences of political opinion since the war?
A. Nothing of any consequence, except those little street disturbances, which are always liable to occur—mere matters of police.
Q. Is there not a deep feeling of disappointment and chagrin on the part of secessionists at the result of the war?
A. I do not observe it. They all seem to be cheerful, and to take the result as a matter of course. They seem to be perfectly reconciled, and to be returning to habits of peace as rapidly as they can. I see no bitterness about their disappointment.

Q. Do they generally regard the question of the right of secession as having been settled by the sword?
A. It seems to me so. That is the expression of the majority of those with whom I have conversed.
Q. Do they generally hold, at present, that a State has the right to secede from the Union?
A. I have heard no expressions of such an opinion, either public or private.

Q. You think that practically the result of the war has decided that question in their minds?
A. I do think so from my observation.
Q. How do this class of people generally feel toward the freedmen?
A. Very kindly. We have had no difficulty there or dispute with the negroes, except on one occasion, on Christmas day. A crowd of drunken white people got into a miscellaneous row with negroes; but the negroes are generally treated kindly. My own negroes with the exception of one have returned to me—my own negro boy, whom I have owned since infancy, has returned to me after having been employed in the commissary department in Alexandria, at the rate of thirty-five dollars a month and rations. He has returned to his old status. The feeling between the negroes and their former masters seem to be perfectly kind; I see the negroes working as usual.

Q. From what you know of the feeling in Virginia, have you any reason to suppose that a majority of Virginians would now, if left to their free choice, decide in favor of a southern independent government?
A. I cannot say; I am in that position of life that does not justify me in giving expression to what public sentiment would be; I do not feel able to answer the question satisfactorily, because I am not informed on the subject; but I may say that I have scarcely met a single person among the secessionists who does not really accept the matter as settled, and seem to be satisfied with it.

Q. How do they regard the Freedmen's Bureau?
A. We really have very little to do with the Freedmen's Bureau.
Q. You do not like it much?
A. Well, we do not object to it; we have a very little difficulty with the negroes. A negro occasionally commits a theft, and is handed over to the Freedmen's Bureau and tried, and that is the end of it.

Q. Are negroes more thievish than white men of that condition?
A. I think not. I really do think that the negroes of the south, (and, indeed, it has been the experience of a great many strangers among us,) as a class of servants, really enjoy a higher morality than any other class of the kind on the face of the earth; that is my impression. Situated as they have been in slavery, they have never had the temptation to steal; if they did steal, or take from their masters, as a matter of course it would be noticed.

Q. Are they not generally as voracious, as truth-telling, as the like condition of whites?
A. Yes, sir; I must say that they are; there is as much honesty and veracity among them. Since the war I have tried both white and black servants, but I declare that I did not see any difference in morality; my experience is, that the negroes are a great deal better than the same class of whites; I must really decide in favor of the negroes.

Q. Is there any other statement that you desire to make to the committee?
A. No, sir, I believe not.

ASIATIC CHOLERA.
PREVENTIVE AND CURATIVE.

The cause of Cholera is always found in a deranged state of the digestive fluids, particularly the bile which has been put in disorder by climatic or other atmospheric causes. The biliary ducts are thus prevented from fulfilling their functions, and consequently the whole circulation is thrown into disorder. The more one's system is thus deranged by unhealthy habits, or irregular habits of living, the more easy will one become the victims of ASIATIC CHOLERA.

Asiatic Cholera is a terrible complaint; it takes its victims with a rapidity unknown to any other malady; the slightest neglect against sanitary rules is almost surely punished with death. Yet Cholera is curable, like other diseases, and in this Ellixir we possess a remedy which is a perfect safeguard against it. Experience in thousands of cases, particularly in 1850, in Germany, and in the Cholera season just past in Paris, Constantinople and other cities of Europe, has proved the use of PROF. WUNDERM'S CHOLERA ELIXIR the surest preventive against the malady.
